

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In dentifrices containing sodium bicarbonate and anionic species which can react with sodium and water to precipitate hydrated crystals, the ratio of water to humectants, abrasives, and/or thickeners is adjusted so that the dentifrice has a 5 water activity of no greater than 0.60 so as to greatly reduce the salting out of the anionic species.